

OIFF TURIN CINEFEST 2017 is at its 4th edition with some important news, the live screening reserved for the winners in the beautiful city of Turin.

After the official selection all the finalists will compete in the contest for 12 days in January 2017 (January 20th-31st). Members of a competent jury are in charge to nominate the best short and the best feature. The winning films will be played in a theatre in Turin next winter and they will also get a prize of 500 dollars.

The festival aims to be a showcase for all those wishing to approach the profession of filmmaker.

Nowadays, thanks to the advent of digital technologies, everyone has the opportunity to get involved. Everyone has the opportunity to realize a movie with a significantly reduced cost compared to the exorbitant figures that required the film, but there are few survivors who do not end up in oblivion.

Therefore, OIFF is meant to be like a window opened to the world of independent film.

Our mission is giving visibility to the different film industries around the world. OIFF is an Independent Festival that aims to give space to any form of language. There are no limits except the limits everyone will put to himself!
