Event Descriptions

AESFF Fresh Stream is a film festival dedicated to art and experimental movies and shorts, performances, interactive, and new media projects.

The festival's mission is to support the creations of filmmakers, to highlight the best of them, to bring their films and clips to audiences and market professionals, and to highlight their work to buyers and content distributors in order to reach the widest possible audience.

We hold the festival live in popular venues (cinemas, conference halls, parks, etc.) to get closer to the audience.

Our audience is multinational and friendly. Your film and you receive a really multinational, expressive, warmest, sincere, and close audience.

The festival provides a wide range of professional and audience-based awards.

A professional jury panel that includes award-winning filmmakers, producers, as well as representatives of distributors, buyers, and online streaming services, also reviews selected works and gives their awards.

During the event, each film receives the audience evaluation by 6 criteria: script, directing, acting, camerawork, music, and impressiveness. Filmmakers receive detailed results personally after the event. The Festival Winner is determined by the audience voting in live venues. Besides, we provide voting on social media to involve a wide audience to support filmmakers

Our audience of users and followers is located in more than 150 countries, so we broadcast the festival program through our Festival Channel on our website as well. The films are shown without the possibility of downloading during the festival days.

In addition, each film is analyzed for possible further promotion and distribution strategies.
